

BUYING PRESENTS FOR SOMEONE WHO ALREADY HAS EVERYTHING IS A PROBLEM THAT STRIKES MANY OF US

WE INTERVIEWED DEREK DALLOW OF DAVENPORTS HARBOUR LAWYERS AND HE EXPLAINED HIS RECENT SOLUTION TO THIS PROBLEM

Most dad's in their 70-80s already have the commercial products their heart's desire, so what can you give your dad for his birthday? Derek Dallow decided on a personalised DVD production from e-motionpictures. Sometime you just want to give a very "special gift" that will touch the heart.

With his Dad's 75th birthday approaching quickly, Derek Dallow met with Lisa Wheeler of e-motionpictures. He had selected a collection of photos showing his dad's life through the years. He also had a VHS video tape of an interview with his Dad conducted by one of Derek's brothers a few years earlier.

What would you tell someone considering using e-motionpictures?

"Lisa has the secret to good service, exceed their expectations"

Mr Dallow says "Lisa coordinated the photos, old video and his Dad's favourite music to DVD". The final movie had Dad talking about his life and the relevant photos being played on the screen. The photos blend in and out of the video footage seamlessly. "Both Dad and Mum were thrilled with the results and we feel much safer with regards to our old memories" said Mr Dallow.

Movie making is an art. Like all works of art it requires talent, creativity, skill and experience. Lisa Wheeler has these attributes and her clients consider the results of her efforts "superb" and "fantastic". Lisa reminded us that movie making is a multi-step process. Beginning with a selection of media i.e. video, photos, slides, audio, music or script, then a movie is built bit by bit. Lisa says "but in order to tell our stories we need to create a complete package with our files. One that captures feelings, emotions, and the spirit of our days".

What did you think about Lisa's products and services?

The secret of good business

Derek says "Lisa offers a very valuable product and wonderful service". The whole process was made easy by Lisa who had an excellent understanding of what Mr Dallow wanted for his Dad's birthday. One of the keys to being successful in the business of video editing is to listen to your customers. Lisa is soft spoken and easy to communicate with. She says her goal is to touch hearts and that's why the company is aptly named e-motionpictures. The tag line for e-motionpictures is "saving lives...as dvd movies" and clients like Mr Dallow, will agree that she is accomplishing this feat.

Working with Lisa is easy and as she is a sole trader there is no "middle-man" to mix up messages.

Would you use e-motionpictures again?

Without hesitation

Mr Dallow confirms he has already used Lisa's services a couple more times.
